Subject: Submission of selected points from students, parents, alumni, faculty, and employer's feedback analysis report on syllabus

Respected Sir,

We take feedback from various stakeholders, such as students, parents, alumni, faculty, and employers, every year. In the session 2023-24, feedback has been taken from the stakeholders, and after analyses, a few common points have been figured.

We are submitting the same suggestion regarding consideration in designing the syllabus. The suggestions are as below:-

- The curriculum needs to adapt to the evolving needs of the employment.
- Sustainability and environmental experiential learning topics have to be included in the curriculum
- Cross-cutting concerns of human values, professional ethics, etc., must be included in the curriculum.
- The curriculum should include courses on communication skills and personality development.

Therefore, we kindly ask that the aforementioned recommendations be taken into account when the curriculum is revised.

Thanking You in Anticipation!

Subject: Submission of selected points from students, parents, alumni, faculty, and employer's feedback analysis report on syllabus

Dear Sir,

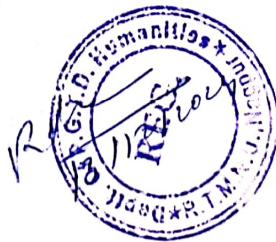

We take feedback from various stakeholders, such as students, parents, alumni, faculty, and employers, every year. In the session 2024-25, feedback has been taken from the stakeholders, and after analyses, a few common points have been figured. We are submitting the same suggestion regarding consideration in designing the syllabus.

The suggestions are as below:-

- The syllabus should be aligned with changing job scenarios.
- The syllabus should include experiential learning issues related to the environment and sustainability.
- Curriculum must integrate crosscutting issues of professional ethics, human values, etc.
- Courses related to personality development and communication skills should be included in the curriculum.

So, we request that the above suggestions be considered when upgrade of the syllabus is done.

Thanking You in Anticipation!
